

WEBMINAR

Title

Air pollution and climate change: trends, causes and future impacts

Expert

Prof Ronald G. Prinn

Abstract

This lesson provides an overview of the relationship between air pollution and climate change. Prof. Prinn will explain how greenhouse gases have changed over the past years and their impact on temperatures. The role of human and natural processes in driving these changes will also be examined. Finally, future scenarios with a specific focus on environmental risks will be presented.