

WEB SEMINAR ENERGY

TORKEL THIME

Project manager and senior archivist at the Norwegian Oil and Gas Archives

Torkel Thime graduated in History from the University of Bergen. He has worked at the National Archives since 1984 and has been responsible for establishing and developing the Norwegian Oil and Gas Archives. He has worked extensively on oil and gas related projects including four industrial heritage projects together with the Norwegian Oil Museum and the National library.

He has published a number of books both on archival science and history on topics spanning from legal, industrial and railway history. He is presently working on a book about archival description in Norway from the 15th to the 19th century.